KVCR FM welcomed public radio fans into the KVCR TV Studio on April 6th for our annual taping of American Parlor Songbook. APS invites listeners into the parlor for clever songs, charming stories, and hilarious sketches every week. Hosted from the piano by JP Houston with his wife, Julie Van Dusen, the pair are joined by guests from national music acts to raconteurs and stand-ups.

We’re proud to share that KVCR assisted in formatting the program for public radio and remains the “presenting station” for distribution through the Public Radio Exchange (PRX). The program now airs on 12 stations in eight states including Alaska, Florida and New York.

Live tapings always include a ‘guess the song’ game where audience members compete for fun prizes by naming tunes and original artists with JP at the piano. KVCR guests enjoy their evening with the Radio staff and the Songbook team. Regarding this particular annual event, KVCR Program Manager Rick Dulock said, “In my experience, there is nothing that builds on a member-station relationship quite like the face to face interaction.”

This year, following the taping of APS we requested testimonials from those in attendance and recorded six listeners for Spring Membership Pre-pledge messaging.

KVCR listeners hear APS every Sunday afternoon at 4:00.

This report is part of our statewide public radio collaboration looking at the California Dream. • TASTE TEST – A UC Riverside researcher recently published a study including the results of a blind, “toilet-to-tap” water taste test. • ECONOMIC GROWTH – UC Riverside Political Science student and KVCR news intern Ezequiel Ramirez spoke with economist and community organizer about the changes in the IE. • TRADE WAR – Following President Trump’s proposal to slap tariffs on Chinese steel and aluminum exports, China may retaliate by levying $2 billion in tariffs on U.S. agricultural exports. • POLITICS – Democratic Member of Congress Mark Takano weighed in on the race for Riverside County Sheriff. • CAREGIVER TRAUMA – A new documentary on KVCR-TV explored the secondary traumatic stress that caregivers such as doctors, therapists, and first responders experience on a daily basis. • REGIONAL HOMELESSNESS – Officials from Orange County cities gather for federal court hearing on what to do with about 400 people who had been living in makeshift encampments along the Santa Ana riverbed. • HEALTHCARE – Supporters of a ballot initiative to reform the dialysis industry filed more than 600,000 signatures. • HOME SCHOOLS – In a KVCR report for NPR, we explored the debate in California Legislature over whether home schools operating in the state should have more state scrutiny. • HOUSING – A controversial bill to increase the number of tall housing developments near transit stops in cities all over California has been amended. • INTERVIEWS – • KVC-ARTS – David Fleming interviewed Chris Thayer and Ron Mills about their new graphic novel series, “Legba’s Juke Joint.” • ATOH – Lillian Vasquez interviewed Kevin O’Connor, host of the public TV program, “This Old House,” and “Ask This Old House,” airing on KVCR TV. • LATIN ROOTS – Combining her father’s original orchestrations with new music of her own, Lucie Arnaz show draws on her 2010 album, “Lucie Arnaz: Latin Roots.”

Radio Membership Campaign Falls Short

The 91.9 KVCR Spring Membership Drive fell a little short this year. Two weeks of Pre-drive messaging, along with four days of live in-studio Pledge, yielded just over $78,000. We came in just under $32,000 short of our $110,000 Spring Membership Goal and will be meeting to discuss ways to capture the shortage by Fiscal Year End. We are grateful to the following local partners supporting the Spring Drive:

• The Inland Empire 66ers – provided a Sixty Sixers Skybox Experience valued at $750
• The producers of Musicology – provided a $500 Guitar Center Gift Card
• Norco’s 2018 Brew N Que Festival – provided a VIP Experience for Four valued at $500

Winners will be announced in 30 days and invited to pick up their prize, tour the station and meet the staff.

Long Time Host Hangs Up His Cleats

After 25 years of hosting public radio’s only sports program, Only a Game, host Bill Littlefield, veteran NPR commentator, has decided to hang up his cleats. Bill’s final broadcast as host will be Saturday, July 28. WBUR, the station that produces the show will hold a nationwide search for Bill’s successor.

Only A Game is an award-winning one-hour weekly sports magazine show for sports’ fans and the steadfast sports avoider. From NPR and WBUR, Only A Game offers great features and storytelling that explore the human side of sports, all with compelling insight and deeply told narratives. Only A Game’s new partnership is with Sports Illustrated’s weekly segment, In Their Own Words. Only A Game airs Saturdays at noon and 9pm.

STYLE FASHION WEEK

Our production crew covered Style Fashion Week in Palm Springs at the Palm Springs Air Museum over a two-day period. The opening reception was held at the V Hotel with a performance by Missing Persons. Style Fashion Week is a platform for designers to showcase their fashion creations accompanied by other mediums of art and design. The goal of Style Fashion Week is to directly engage brands and designers with consumers. Our goal as the Empire Network is to educate the Inland Empire on the economic impact hosting an event of this magnitude has. Exposing and learning about possible careers in the fashion industry along with the logistics and complexities of pulling of a fashion show of this size was also a priority. The production team will produce a three minute segment for air on TV and several social media videos to create more buzz for the station. This year’s fashion week showcased collections and designs from a slew of designers.

GENE KELLY: THE LEGACY

Patricia Ward Kelly, was interviewed for an upcoming State of the Symphony segment. Patricia was married to Gene Kelly. She shares an intimate portrait on stage of Gene Kelly, legendary actor, dancer, director and choreographer. Kelly was a classic Hollywood idol credited for creating some of the most iconic and memorable choreography for films during the Hollywood’s Golden Era. From An American in Paris (1951) to Singing in the Rain (1952) and so many more. He died in 1996 and was survived by his wife and biographer, Patricia Ward Kelly. The couple first met when she was interviewing him.

FROM SCRATCH

Production has started on the From Scratch: Victorian Home Renovation Special. On this episode, hosts Brian and Stacie provide advice on the Victorian home renovation. They prepare Cuban food for the crew, and a pastry chef teaches Brian how to decorate a cake just in time for Stacie’s birthday. Stacie helps an Eastvale-based Girl Scouts troop earn their DIY badge. Plus the Korcoks attend some cool events in the Inland Empire, including the Palm Springs Style Fashion Week and the Orange Show Fair.
GRAPHICS

Orange Show – During this upcoming Orange Show, the Empire Network will have a number of cars in the parade and we created this graphic for print on the vehicles. It will showcase our brand, the shows we produce, and the hosts of said shows. Each show and set of hosts will have their own version of this graphic.

Earth-Day – We produced this short graphic video to highlight Earth Day this month. Taking inspiration from this year’s theme of ‘End Plastic Pollution’ from earthday.org, we presented a few statistics and projections about plastic pollution. The video ends with the Empire Network brand with the earth added alongside.

We continue to create artwork for our radio interview with Richard Sherman of Disney fame. This image will be used when Richard talks about Burt from Mary Poppins in his interview.

KVCR AUTISM INITIATIVE

IN THE COMMUNITY

April is a busy month for some of our staff who work on the KVCR Autism Initiative, since April is National Autism Awareness Month.

For the 5th year we invested our time in the “Coloring for the Future of Autism” project. This year over 30 businesses participated in the project, selling puzzle pieces and posted them on a wall at their company. The project raises funds to produce programs and provide scholarships, but also creates awareness.

KVCR staff participated in the Hero Walk put on by the Autism Society Inland Empire. We had a booth at the event where we sold autism styled t-shirts, and a variety of other autism related trinkets including bracelets, coozies, and cookie cutters.

This year at the Hero Walk we presented the Autism Art Garden. Funded by a grant from the California Arts Council and the San Bernardino Arts Commission. KVCR in partnership with the Autism Society Inland Empire produces a yearly calendar using artwork created by individual with autism, we used the artwork from our calendar and featured it in our Art Garden. The Art Garden will be a story featured in our upcoming radio and television series Expressions of Art.

KVCR TV dedicated an evening of programming on the subject of Autism and on radio Lifestyles with Lillian Vasquez featured a segment each week in April on the topic. Our web and social media posted information all month long.
COMING IN MAY ON FNX

Children of the Desert – This series looks at the portraits of 10 children belonging to nomadic tribes, living in deserts around the globe. What kind of life do these children have in this 21st century? These films show the joys, hardships and hopes of children living in a hostile environment where "progress" is constantly eroding a way of life based on traditional values. May 5 at 3:30pm

Hit the Ice – Season 5 is back for another run! This youth series will see dreams come true as the best young male Aboriginal hockey players come together for a 2-week NHL-like training camp. From physical training, on ice drills and different team building activities, these prospects will experience the highs and lows. One dream driving it all, making it to the next level. May 8 at 8:30pm

A New Island: The Marshallese in Arkansas – Between 1946 and 1958 the United States tested 67 nuclear weapons in the Marshall Islands. Claims between the United States and the Marshall Islands are ongoing, and the health effects have created a legacy that still lingers from these tests. This documentary introduces us to some of the people who have made this journey, as they try to preserve their island culture while adapting to life in the middle of America. May 13 at 5:00pm

Defending The Fire – This follows the journey of the Native Warrior as he (and she) continues conflict resolution in order to survive and secure resources and culture. Vietnam war veteran and actor Wes Studi (Geronimo, Last of the Mohicans, Hostiles) narrates and appears in the film. May 20 at 5:00pm

Wassaja – A “60 Minutes” style news program from Indian Country produced and hosted by Emmy award winning Native journalist Mark Trahant. Sundays at 6:30am
